

Founding President Sam Nujoma holding one of the Cassinga survivors. Cassinga was a SWAPO transit camp in southern Angola which was attacked by the former apartheid South African regime in May 1978.

The struggle was tough. This is how President Hifikepunye Pohamba looked like during the struggle.

Cuba's Fidel Castro and Founding President Sam Nujoma during Namibia's liberation struggle.

SWAPO Party Secretary General, Cde Pendukeni Iivula-Ithana and Fisheries and Marine Resources Permanent Secretary, Ulitala Hiveluah.

Liberation icon and former Secretary of Defence, (PLAN) of Peter Nanyemba consoling the just captured John van der Mescht.

Commander Tashiya Nakada

Cde. Jackson Kaujeua

Brilliant Commander Ruben Danger Ashipara, the first to capture a boer alive during the struggle.

SWAPO Party Secretary General, Cde Pendukeni Iivula-Ithana, with Founding President Sam Nujoma at the National Art Gallery. Photo by Levi Upula.