Already, the land surveying consolidating Namibia’s current studying and a vital factor to as one of the important steps to offered. SPYL views this step quality and diversity of courses Poly, in an effort to enhance the corresponding recognition of the alteration of the name will be a such a University and we can source externally capable endowed Poly, as well as local academic talent, to make this University a reality.

ANTI CORRUPTION COMMISSION

The national effort toward addressing corruption, which still coincides with the global consensus to curb corruption, must be both transparent and support the wholeheartedly. Namibia is doing well in financing and mobilizing society behind anti-corruption. At least 45% of youth empowerment is required. Specifically, making it improper for SPYL to support Kuleni. That deal won’t work, period.

PACON, IS IT A PUBLIC OR PRIVATE PROPER?

The Pan-African Centre of Namibia (PACON) was established by a Cabinet Resolution of the Government of Namibia, being the initiative of student leaders of the African Students Congress (ASC) of the University of Namibia and a small group of devoted Pan-Africanist in Namibia. Some ten years down the memory lane later, the scorecard of success reads zero, as compared with what the Centre was supposed to have done, essentially to disseminate Africanism, art, indigenous knowledge systems, south-south relations and Pan-Africanism. What these essentially means is that the Centre has been hijacked by few selected Pan-Africanist in Namibia and a small group of people of the Board strongly believes that there is no such thing as PACON.

Mission of the Youth, Sports and Culture was directed to re-vamp PACON under the leadership of the Youth Minister, but the directives from the SWAPO Central Committee were never implemented.

Henceforth, SPYL is appealing to the People’s Congress, the line minister and Cabinet to dispose of the current PACON Board, which has been in existence for the past ten years, due to inactivity, wastage of government resources, overpaying the term limit, undermining of pertinent directives from the ruling Party high structures.

Accordingly, SPYL also appeals to the Line Ministers, to henceforth cease with immediate effect, to appoint the SPAWU Party high structures, to receive PACON in December 2009. The public perceives PACON and consequently Pan-Africanism as lifelines. Those, in our view, is a dangerous political risk, to approve PACON in December 2009.
