Comrades, the aims and objectives of these political projects are to derail the development of African continent and its people through dubious means with bad faith. They talk of regime change in Africa and removing the liberation parties from power. But the question remained: Who ask them to interfere in our domestic affairs and why should they need to change our governments for us? Nayashune nomaupote gawo huyazinago! I think their aims and objectives are quite very straight forward, simple to manipulate the so-called "get smart traitors to destabilize Africa and exploit the African resources". So these imperialists follow this approach and pump millions of dollars to pursue their worst political projects. Who will pump million of dollars for free on a silver plate simple and not expect any returns? Can one explain to the Namibian nation when did they start pumping money to develop Namibia and its people if not just bringing money here to create jobs for their citizens and drag the country into bad debts? What is really worrisome is the fact that there are these ignorant African brothers who preach that Africa can not survive without Europe. Stop being ignorant and make things work for yourself, do not wait reactionaries to give you handouts. These brothers must start being productive and contributing to the development of Namibia in whatever capacity they can rather than waiting their masters to betray them and bring chaos in Namibia because of their ignorance. How did Asia achieve the economic emancipation? I believe if we choose to succeed in this endeavor journey of economic emancipation then off course we can. They must get used to the idea that they lost their money and will do that by sponsoring these bad, poorly thought political project in African continent in general and Namibia in particular. Whether they like it or not democracy will always be determined by the people of Namibia through the ballot box and Namibia will never be on sale, over our dead

RDP and HH should tell the truth, and he must be held responsible for what he said. I was involved in the Election Process and in Counting Process as well. Radopa agents were there, they did tell us that they are also part of State Security. At the Verification Centre all were welcome and free to go in. How many staff does the State Security have? Nani kiilongo ohaa lafululwa uulayi wayo. Inatu itaala mapukifo. HH na pukithe owala his oradopa members. NATIONAL SECURITY IS BEING THREATENED. I CHALLENGE the Konrad Adenauer Stiftung (KAS) to provide NBC with verbatim tape of HH speech at Brussel (Belgium). The Swapo masses want to watch it, NOW!!!

Now that we have won the election a huge task is vested in our new members of parliament and in our President to ensure that the fruits of independence do filter through to all Namibians irrespective of colour, sex and ethnic origins. One such responsibility is to ensure that development and empowerment are seen to be taking place in all our 13 regions in the next five years.

This article had been circulated to various "unbiased" media houses yet some had it shortened of its full content. here it is comrades. Thinking Vote? Pre election jargon can be taken at face value as it is in the spirit of competition, similar to school athletics where the various cheer leaders rant and rave loudly to boost the confidence of their players. However, after the games are played and one is crowned the victor, a sense of unity and decency must prevail; we must all shake hands and continue our efforts to improve in the areas that left us vulnerable. This is not the case in Namibia, some just can't believe that despite all the letter's, opinion pieces, anonymous texts etc, they are still unable to capture the hearts and minds of the Namibian people. Mr Kandetu went further to say that tribalism is the order of the day, which to an extent I can agree with as some of the smaller parties relied heavily on the tribal vote, however the main competitors in this year's race were largely from the same group of tribes. How can one logically attempt to diminish SWAPO's victory under the assumption of tribalism? The prophets of doom had predicted that the only way that SWAPO may be defeated is if a faction from the Oshiwambo members broke away to form a rival party, this indeed occurred with the formation of the COD yet to no avail. The prophets then went back to the drawing board and claimed that only a breakaway group lead by an influential senior SWAPO member from the Oshiwambo people will be able to break SWAPO's grip but alas still to no avail. What does one do after predicting so much doom yet only to be doomed by their own words? Some resort to writing passionate fallacies to the foreign press, while some resort to tribal bashing by calling equal hard working Namibian brothers and sisters non-thinkers. "That the Oshiwambo-speaking majority in the northern regions has turned out in numbers that probably exceed even the voters' roll projections is b

Dear comrades, welcome to 2010, the year of hard work and unity of purposes. I have said it last year that the failed plan of RDP to take over the government from the Mighty Swapo Party had totally failed during the just concluded election last year. The subsequently idea of forming coalition like in Kenya and recently in Zimbabwe whereby the leader of RDP was wishing to become a prime minister has also totally failed! The denied coalition has come into being when all opposition's parties send the RDP leader to German for the so-called SADC opposition's parties aiming to take over governments from the liberation parties. This was highlighted by the Hon. Minister Comrade Kaapanda this morning and aired in national radio between 13:00 – 14:00. Comrades, I urge you to be very vigilant and in whatever we do, let's note that their blood have water our precious freedom. When the books of heroes will be written, those who have an ideas of refusing the will of the Namibian people through democratic means, their names must be rejected irrespective their previous contribution. Lastly, I urge all comrades to hold hand together with those that are respecting the democratic results as announced by the electoral body ECN irrespective of their political affiliation. Namibia is our motherland and the victory of our Swapo party must be respected. Posted by Imanu Kleo Okalongo Cdes, I want to let those nine opposition political parties knows that SWAPO never change its aims and objectives. Namibians are tired to be misled thus why they are voting for our Mighty SWAPO Party. We do not need what they so called regime change in Namibia. Shame on them, puppets. SWAPO always emerge victorious and will maintain its two third majority on years to come.

Comrades, we all know that the reactionaries/traitors had two things in mind before election either they win election by 30 seats or the election is simple rigged. Now the former did not work and they pursued with the latter. Namibian nation need to ask these so called former Namibian patriots to clarify how they comfortable seated on rigged seats in parliament in all those years without any complaint, this is tantamount to betraying the nation. If we are not vigilant enough then we will give the country in the hand of betrayers and those who want to reverse the will of the Namibian nation and its development as the elders said. We should never betray the sacrifice of those whose blood waters our freedom. We all now what they are up to and the Namibian compatriots will always remain vigilant and we always vote smartly as we have always did in the past elections. My vote will never go on sale!

Comrades and friends, I would like to assure you that to me the pending court case on the election challenge is a searching heaven to lost makakus. we rather focus our energy on our education system especially to Grade 10 ungraded students and those who failed since 1993.Comrades some of these people are deeply living in the villages and cannot not recall anymore not even the word "Good morning" PLEASE LET US LOOK AT THEM.

People be vigilant, I had a bad dream and it might be happening. The reactionaries in particular Nyamu, Liboli and Ya Nangolo are dangerous. The are planning many things to destroy the country. Please provide a tied security for Nuuyoma, Pohambaand Mee Pendukeni and more others, some faces were hidden in my dream but really I had a bad dream. Let all of us to be vigilant from now on.

Comrades, we must be vigilant, these so called opposition parties and their cohorts (imperialists, reactionaries)are trying their best to destabilize the country. The SWAPO Party is TOO MIGHTY to compete with these fly-by-night political packages. A Luta continua, A victoria e certa.

Comrades Simon J./Uirab and Tomas Kalimbo you are correct, I concur with you, definitely not even the high court can change the will and aspirations of the Namibian loving peace Majority, who un-equivocally mandate the SWAPO Party to still and continue rule this country. I have also to thank NBCTV for showing the Battle of Kangamba Saturday night; it was a reality for the new born to learn the history of Southern Africa in Particular led to the Independence of beloved Namibia.

It is rumored that some ministries are rushing to fill key positions with unpatriotic elements after hearing the call from the mighty SWAPO to ensure that all key positions are occupied by tested cadres who will whole heartedly implement our SWAPO party programmers. We must therefore keep our eyes open and ensure that the opposition does not continue to enjoy representation in state departments as they recently claimed.

The controvenial guy Globber(Grobler)always have hang over about SWAPO, Hmm no wonder what ever happen is connected to the Party, What a pity/ and he himself at what Party he belongs anyway? If the fight occur at a bar that has nothing to do with SWAPO, I think he just received what he deserved to have received. Period!
