Ghana that Africa does not require strong leaders but requires strong institutions. In this case I agree to this notion that our strong institutions should champion these legislations to ensure that the mass of the Namibian people participate in the economic activities of their motherland. We would like to see the newly Epangelo mining company participates in all the current and future mining activities of this country for the benefit of all the Namibian people. This should be part of the second phase of economic struggle of our people! SWAPO UNITED THAN EVER, AND VICTORIOUS IN OKAHANDJA IS VERY MUCH CERTAIN. IF YOU DOUBT THIS THEN THE DUSTBIN STILL HAS SOME SPACE!

Reading the article of Chritoph Maletsky "title The Gospel according to SWAPO" The Namibian news papers of Wednesday, one wonder if the author have really understand the aims and objectives of SWAPO, perhaps he thinks by propagating it make business for their news papers, I wish this gentle man should know that SWAPO is the people and people are SWAPO. Can he tell us what the religious are if not people? SWAPO belongs to all, religious and non religious, all Namibians who believe in equality peace and love for all, and that is what god what too, Even Jesus summarized the ten commandment into two, in which one of it to "love your neighbor as you love yourself" thus the same SWAPO wants us to love each other as we love ourselves and pray the mighty god who strengthened us to achieve our goals, may the gentle man can find himself a book Titled "Fidel y Religion" "Fidel and Religion" for him to acquaints himself, those the author is a Communist I think it will enlighten his knowledge more, The Namibian people themselves had enough of such kind of propaganda, if the journalist have nothing to write is better for them to go to the rural areas and find some interesting stories that may contribute the uplift of our rural communities rather than writing unwarranted stories.

Shame on RADOPA to put up a person who is against development of a town as a Regional Council candidate. History sometimes repeat itself. So will the history of Omuthiya, Eenhana and Tobias Hainyeko repeat itself and as usual SWAPO Party will emerge as VICTORS in Okahandja

Once a puppet, always a puppet. Livius Hamutenya was disappointed by the Namibia people that caused him to lies to his Masters. He is so deseparate about being a leader of Namibia. However OSWAPO oya kindja! The people of Okahandja will disappointed them again come 24 February 2010. SWAPO and its candindate shall win hands d o w n . S W A P O U n i t e d , S W A P O Victorious, Now Hardwork Comrades! Aluta Continua!

It is time again for all SWAPO supporters, comrades, members and sympathers in Okahandja to prepare themselves well and vote rightly for SWAPO and follow the footsteps of Eenhana, Omuthiya and Tobias Hainyeko. Let show them that SWAPO is the People and the People are SWAPO. Those detractors should learn that is only through the Unite of purpose that makes difference! Remember SWAPO had united all the Namibian people from all walks of live, from different colors or religion, SWAPO had been recognized by the international community as Authentic representative of the Namibian people and had fought heroically together with the progressive forces and internationalist forces till the apartheid system had abolished on the Southern Continent of Africa. It is time to seriously guard this noble course of our bravely brothers and sisters who sacrificed for the freedom which is enjoyed today in the whole southern Africa. Comrades in Okahandja must reject those prophets of dooms, those who are pretending to be independent candidate. The born free in Okahandja too is time to show the Nation that you are the future of this great Nation! THEIR BLOOD WATERS OUR FREEDOM!

I have long warned some people that RDP does not have the interest of the Namibian nation at heart. They are now dining and working together with the same UNITA (Kaxuxwa) who terorised the people of Angola and northern Namibia in collaboration with the brutal apartheid South African army. Was Hidipo happy that there was no peace in Angola because of UNITA? For sure the Germanies must be rest assured that their money they poure in the RDP project is lost. They will never lay their hands on our motherland. "...You will forever be free our nation..." SWAPO ANTHEM

Hope and compassion amidst the rubbles of desolation in Haiti

By Jeròboam Shaanika

The evening of 12 January 2010, would probably be remembered by the present and future generations of Haitians as a day mother nature unleashed the greatest catastrophe of unimaginable proportions on their problem afflicted nation. After that earth quake measuring 7.0 magnitude on the Richter scale, Port-Au-Prince the capital city of Haiti was reduced to rubbles. Churches, hospitals and the Presidential Palace, a symbol of national authority were all reduced to heaps of ruins. Buried beneath those ruins and rubbles

Cde. Jeròboam Shaanika are fellow human beings who happened to be at places one would wish they should have missed to be there even by a minute.

CALL FOR PAPERS

THE JOURNAL OF YOUTH DEVELOPMENT (JYD).

Purpose and objective of the Journal

Whereas the year 2009 saw the Youth emerge as a significant voice in the public arena in Namibia, which was translated into votes in the elections at the end of the year, their voice was heard through newsprint, in the daily press and to a lesser extent through the visual media. Amongst the articulated Youth, the thinking is that the point has been reached when a platform is required, to provide dedicated space, where those interested can locate the views of the Youth at a deeper level, on a periodic basis, with more strategic depth, than what is available in newsprint.

Expected outcomes.

The publication of JYD is expected to broaden consciousness of the role of the Youth in society, be they from the rural or urban areas, and to foster among Namibian Youth, a spirit of awareness of social, economic, political, educational and cultural prospects and adversities.

- JYD will seek to develop the inherent abilities and capabilities of young people, both individually and collectively, as well as encouraging literacy, academic writing and debate.
- JYD will popularize and advocate gender equality, Youth health and welfare (including reproductive sexual health issues), Youth development, the promotion of Youth with disabilities and international Youth relations.
- JYD will publish Youth perspectives on political, economic and social challenges and opportunities for Youth in Namibia.
- JYD will seek to popularise notions on the deepening and consolidation of the African identity and national cohesion.

The Journal is open to submissions from persons not older than 35 years of age. The first issue of JYD will appear in mid-2010. This is a Call for Papers, to be published in the first issue of JYD. Such papers should run to no longer than twenty pages in double spacing.

Abstracts should be sent to email info@youthcouncil-namibia.org On or before Monday the 1st March 2010 and should be strictly limited to between 100 and 500 words, on any theme within the context of the above-mentioned objectives of JYD. The submission of an Abstract must include the following:-

- * Proposed title of paper; full name(s) of author(s) and any organisational affiliation
- * Full postal address, email address and telephone/mobile number(s) of first Author
- * Number of words and
- * Author's resume of up to 250 words
- * Abstracts which are accepted will necessitate the submission on or before Monday 12th April 2010

Of Full papers:-

- * Only upon the acceptance of Abstracts
- * The paper should be no longer than 20 pages double spaced.
- * Papers accepted for publication will attract an ex- gratia payment of N$ 500. 00 per paper

NB Correspondence regarding submissions will be conducted with the Author designated with this role. Unless otherwise specified, the first Author will be taken to be the corresponding Author.
