View Point

By Nancy Nyamhunga

Education: Biggest sanctions buster

SOMETIMES we spend too much of our time dwelling on negatives, weaknesses and setbacks to such an extent that we fail to notice, let alone take time to celebrate our achievements.

The importance of celebrating our successes and victories is that it boosts our morale, motivates us and inspires those around us to do the same.

Success is a sign that our hard work is paying off and we are making progress. As Zimbabweans, we have been too critical on our national leaders without appreciating what they have done and this article is reproduced from www.talkzimbabwe.com

At the same time, we should be thinking of what we can draw from our past to match it through the future.

In medicine, they tell us to know what the past has done for us but as well we can do a bit for our country.

To do that, we need to understand the rationale about why do we believe in SWAPO!

By cde

Kanamutenya, Windbox

Please I salute you all comrades who perished for the noble cause of our country for us to enjoy the freedom and independence. I therefore urge all Patriotic Namibians to honor heroes day and more special for the young ones to study hard and continue to be our forefathers toll.

I am inspired by the words of Comrade Robert Mugabe the president of SWAPO party, we African should unite and stand on our own to build this beautiful continent of ours! Thanks you all comrades.

By Nancy Nyamhunga

Our Blood Waters

SWAPO!...Struggle for economic emancipation hence continue through SWAPO party.

Friday 03 - 09 Thursday  September 2010

Namibia Today